COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT

Unoccupied properties can become blight in the community as there is no longer a responsible occupant. To help the Village better manage foreclosed properties and all other building vacancies, the CSDD continues to implement a recently approved Vacant Property Registration Ordinance (VPRO). The VPRO is designed to help the Village track vacancies and establish reliable contacts to preserve the appearance and physical condition of empty abandoned and foreclosed properties.

All vacant properties must be registered with the Village within 90 days of vacancy & renewed on an annual basis if the property remains unoccupied for an administrative fee of $100

The ordinance also requires quarterly inspections by the owner or its agent to insure basic standards for exterior/interior maintenance of the property, and to reduce blight in the community. If you are concerned about a vacant property in your neighborhood and want to ensure that it is registered please contact Zoning and Planning Specialist Fernando Moreno at 414-371-3032.

However, when she meets a handsome philanthropist named Ellis (Michiel Huisman), she strains against the self-imposed exile she's lived in. When her secret may become public, she is forced to take greater control over her life.

NORTH SHORE HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Thick winter coats should not be worn while riding in a car seat. Bulky coats worn underneath a car seat harness may cause the harness to be too loose and ineffective in a crash. As the temperature starts to drop make sure your child stays safe and warm. Watch this sort video from the Today show on what could happen in a crash: <http://www.today.com/video/car-seat-alert-a-winter-coat-could-endanger-your-child-585502787887>

How to check if the coat is too big:

- Put the coat on your child and fasten them into the car seat with the harness. Tighten the harness.
- Without loosening the harness, remove the child from the car seat.
- Take off the coat and put your child back into the car seat without adjusting the harness straps.
- If you can pinch the harness straps between your thumb and forefinger, the coat is too bulky to be worn under the harness.

Alternatives to bulky winter coats:

- Put the coat on backwards after your child is securely harnessed into the car seat.
- Find a coat that provides a tight enough fit.
- Place a blanket over your child after being securely harnessed into the car seat.
