Seniors are often the most vulnerable and targeted group for financial scams.

According to the National Crime Prevention Council, fraudulent telemarketers direct 56 percent to nearly 80 percent of their calls at older customers. Finding and prosecuting these criminals can be very difficult. Financial scams frequently go unreported because seniors do not know who to report to or may not realize they have been scammed. Some of the most common scams include health insurance fraud, telemarketing fraud, internet scams, charity scams etc.

To help prevent and identify potential scams follow these tips:

- Never sign blank insurance claim forms
- Don't buy from an unfamiliar company. Always check out unfamiliar companies with your local consumer protection agency ( Better Business Bureau, Wisconsin State Attorney General, The National Fraud Information Center)
- Don't pay for services in advance
- Don't send money or give out personal information (i.e. bank account numbers, social security, dates of birth) to unknown persons or companies
- If you suspect something is wrong do not hesitate to call the police or family member/friend.
